UNITE, THE UNION FOR HOSPITALITY WORKERS

Is your job in hospitality getting you down?

Do you struggle with low wages? Tired of feeling disposable?

Ever wonder what it would be like to get together with other hospitality workers to make your job better?

Well now you can.

We are Unite restaurant and bar workers, and we've done it. We're part of a growing movement of workers taking action to hold our employers and the entire hospitality industry to account. It can afford to pay and treat us fairly.

We're winning, the government's recent pledge to bring in a new law to let workers keep 100% of their tips - that's thanks to our campaigning. But there's more to do
